I would wholeheartedly recommend modulo.

I found the team were extremely helpful in choosing and then customising my modulo chair.

I was extremely keen to choose a chair which looks like a part of the furniture that I would choose for my house, rather than having my choices limited to a more overly obvious disabled or adapted choice.

I found that the whole experience was made much easier through the support from the modulo team.

They fully understood my requirements, and took the time to ensure that the solution was comfortable. They also made a second visit, where I had asked for additional head support for the chair.

I do not say this lightly, but having the use of this reclining chair has really improved my reduction in pain levels through the use of this chair in the evenings in particular.

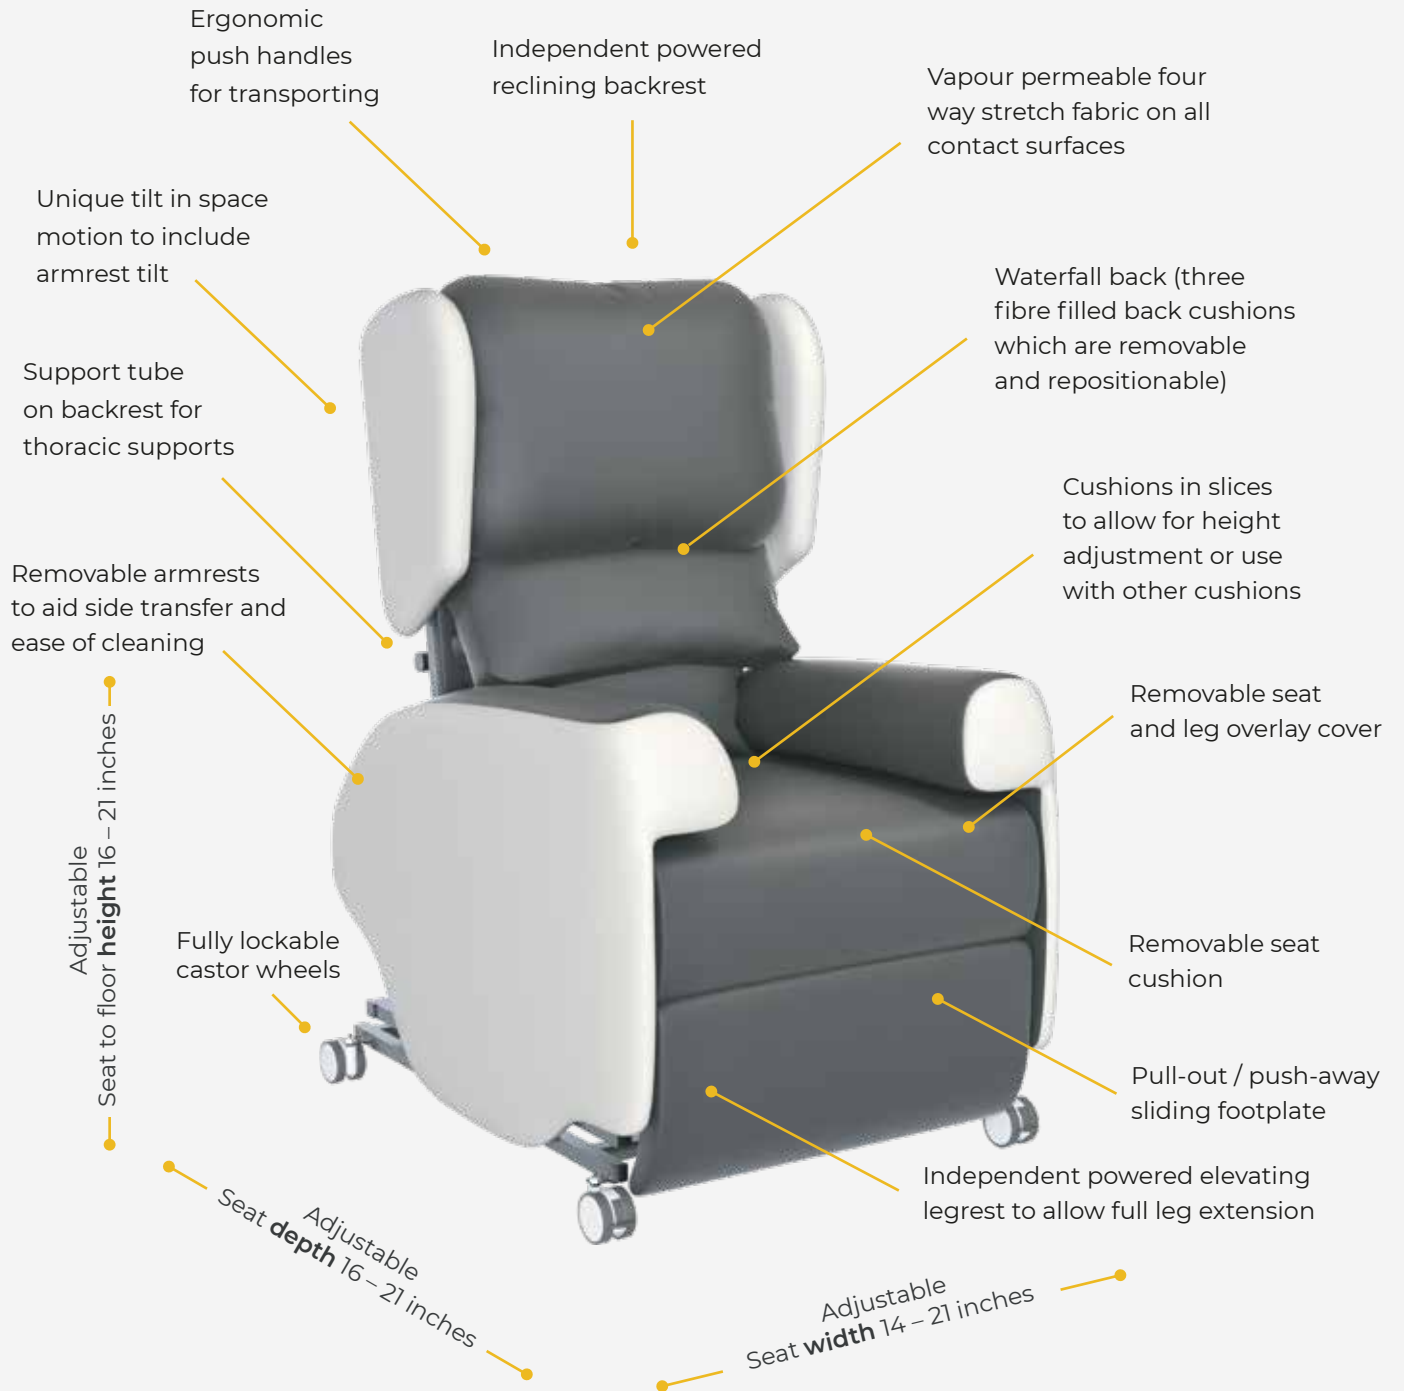

Overall, I would fully recommend modulo, and I found that their team provided a first class service.

Fully electric motors to reduce discomfort

Release additional pressure thanks to our dual motor riser recliner, with your choice of single or dual rise and recline actions to suit space, style and support.
